

IS MANDAMUS USED A SECOND TIME

Patrolman Siegfus Takes Legal Steps to Secure Salary.

REISER WOULDN'T PAY HIM

MRS. HILTON WITHDRAWS HER SUIT FOR A DIVORCE.

Patrolman Benedict D. Siegfus made a demand upon City Auditor Albert S. Reiser yesterday for his March salary and upon being refused began mandamus proceedings against him in the district court. The papers were filed shortly before 5 o'clock, after all the judges had left the building.

Taking it for granted that Auditor Reiser would pay him for services rendered, the same as Sergeant Hempel, Patrolman Siegfus went down to the city and county building and asked for his money. He was informed that until Captain Burbridge signed the payroll no more salaries would be paid.

The disappointed patrolman returned up town and placed his case in the hands of Attorney Frank H. Guerin, who had been instrumental in securing Sergeant Hempel's money for him. It did not take long to draw up the complaint, which was very similar to the first one, and then it was filed with Deputy County Clerk George G. Armstrong.

If it is the intention of the auditor to refuse to pay salaries until the Shasta case is decided, unless mandamus, the probabilities are that every member of the force will place their case in the hands of some attorney. In that event the costs, which will amount to several times the salary of the most expensive man on the force.

MRS. HILTON WITHDRAWS SUIT

No Explanation Given For Sudden End of Action For Divorce.

Former Chief of Police Thomas Hilton and his wife, Sarah Hilton, have evidently "buried the hatchet," as it were, for the action which she brought for divorce some weeks ago was yesterday withdrawn at her instigation. When Judge Hall's court opened the attorney for Mrs. Hilton requested that the case of Hilton vs. Hilton be stricken from the records, without prejudice. He gave no reasons for making the request. Judge Hall complied with his wishes.

When asked for an explanation the attorney said he had none to make. He added that Mrs. Hilton had refrained from taking him into her confidence on the matter because she did not want him subjected to newspaper interviews. The wife had simply made the request that he withdraw the action, and he, as her attorney, had complied; further than that he knew nothing.

The withdrawal of the case was not a surprise to many. It was rather expected. When Mr. Hilton suddenly returned to Ogden from Los Angeles some weeks ago and took up his residence with his mother-in-law, Mrs. McMurrin, where his wife was also stopping, rumor had it, and the story was never contradicted as far as the general public knew. A reconciliation had either been effected or soon would be. The action of Mrs. Hilton's attorney inclines to the confirmation of the story that husband and wife have agreed to bury the past and try it all over again.

MURRAY MUST PAY OR BE SUE

County Clerk James Demands Money City Bid For a Water Tank.

A formal demand was made yesterday by the mayor and city council of Murray by County Clerk James Demands for the $75 which the city bid for a water tank at the time a lot of county property situated within the corporate limits of that municipality was recently sold by the county clerk at public auction. If the city refuses to remit within a reasonable length of time, the county will sue for the amount.

The tank in question, which is really worth about $150, was a portion of the property put up at auction at the time Mr. Ahlberg and the city of Murray bid against each other for the property, which the city officials asked be disposed of in that manner, that it could be purchased by them. Since the sale it is alleged the city has refused to take over from Mr. Ahlberg the other tanks and property which he bought for it, and now refuses to take from the county the tank it bid in.

The city attorney has come to the conclusion that the city is entitled to the property and has, it is said, so advised the mayor and council. The proposed suit against the city will settle the question whether the property in question really belongs to the county or to the city of Murray, whether the latter is legally bound to buy the tank for $75, the figure it was bid in at.

ELLISON JURY IS INCOMPLETE.

Judge Morse Found it Necessary to Issue Order For Third Verdict.

Of the ten talesmen who were summoned to appear before Judge Morse in the criminal division of the district court to be examined as to their fitness to sit on the Clyde Ellison jury, not one of them was acceptable to either the state or defense—they had a fixed opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant and were excused. The result was that Judge Morse was compelled to issue an order for a special venire of twenty-five names for Monday morning. The court then took recess over Sunday, with only eleven jurors accepted and sworn in.

The third special venire contains the following names: Albert E. Poulsen, Arthur Hall, John R. Carlisle, James E. Eardley, Joseph H. Roberts, B. F. Redman, S. F. Hall, Charles E. Johnson, George Harper, John H. Sampson, James O. Muir, John R. Isaac, Ben Fullmer, Lorenzo Sharp, E. M. Freeman, Hezekiah Mitchell, George A. Bell, Philip Jones, C. S. Richardson, Alphonso H. Stone, Charles W. Ames, John P. Readmond, William R. Carter, Robert M. Freeman, R. P. Carter.

GOD WEEK N REAL ESTATE

Railroad Situation Has Decided Effect on the Market.

MANY HOMES BEING BUILT

SCHOOL QUESTION AND ITS RELATION TO VALUES.

One of the best weeks for real estate in the local market for several months has just closed. There have been no large transactions, but there has been an active inquiry for vacant lots and the feeling has been hopeful in the extreme. The prime cause for this has been the announcement that Senator W. A. Clark has bought the Oregon Short Line south of Salt Lake and will begin within the near future to close the gap between Calientes and the California terminus of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road. This, with the progress being made by the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific toward Salt Lake, and the less tangible hope that the Gould system will build between the Salt Lake and San Francisco, has caused greatly increased confidence in the future of the city, with a resultant demand for real estate.

Rents Being Raised.

The conditions are not highly pleasing to everybody, for landlords have shown a disposition to raise rents and tenants are consequently objecting strenuously. As rents for modern houses are already high, the tendency has been to force a greater inquiry for homes to be purchased on installments. This line of business is steadily increasing, as more and more people are coming convinced that it is cheaper to buy than to pay rent, and many new homes are being put up to be purchased on this basis.

The amount of building of houses costing from $1,000 to $2,500 can scarcely be realized unless one makes a tour of the city. In every direction, especially in the eastern and southeastern parts of the city, houses of moderate cost are in progress of construction, and yet the demand has not been satiated. The majority of these are being sold under contract, and for that reason they will not appear in the transfers for some time. The building permits issued last week were not large, but it is predicted that the number will increase greatly in the next few weeks.

Owners Increase Prices.

Another factor in the market which has kept down the amount of business has been the tendency of owners to increase their asking prices. Real estate men generally agree that prices have for some time been high enough, but in the face of this, large numbers of holders have asked more during the last week than they did before. The result has been to keep buyers and sellers apart. There are enough pieces on the market at reasonable prices, however, to give some activity, and considerable business is looked for before the warm weather begins.

The announcement that the new union passenger station is to be built near the site at present occupied by the Oregon Short Line station has increased the interest in the locality between Main, Brigham and Second South streets, and the Short Line tracks. Warehousemen and wholesale houses will be attracted by the establishment of new through lines, and general business will have a tendency to gravitate toward the big passenger station. For that reason there is considerable inquiry in that direction, although the only recent sale of consequence has been the purchase of the Continental hotel corner by Senators Clark and Kearns.

School Situation.

Real estate men are deeply interested in the school situation, as it has a direct effect on their business. Any loss in the standing of the Salt Lake schools will have a tendency to keep people from seeking this city as a home. "In looking over our books for the last five years," remarked Glen Miller, president of the Home Investment company, "I estimate conservatively that 75 per cent of our business during that period has been done with people coming here to live on account of the excellent reputation Salt Lake has had for its public schools. This is especially noticeable with us because we make a specialty of homes, but I know other real estate men will agree with me as to the great effect the schools have had upon their business. They attract people from the ranches and the mining camps of Utah, Nevada, western Colorado and Wyoming, Idaho and Montana, and these people are the most desirable class of citizens. The amount of money real estate owners pay out in school taxes comes back to them many times over in the increased value of their property. Simply as a business proposition, it is incumbent on the citizens of Salt Lake to keep the schools up to the highest possible standard."

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

All Attention Seems to Be Directed to Real Estate.

General business during the week has been fairly active. The speculative interest in real estate has diverted attention from other lines, and retail merchants complain of rather a dull week, with collections slow. A good business has been done in clothing and shoes, due principally to the arrival of warmer weather. It is expected that with the continuance of pleasant and warm days, trade in all lines will improve.

Jobbers have felt a lull succeeding conference and Easter. Not much improvement in trade or collections is looked for until the wool begins to move. Shearing is in progress now in the southern part of the state, but it will be another month before money from this source gets into general circulation. Although the losses have been heavy, wool prices are good, and a considerable amount will be realized from the clip.

There has been comparatively little doing in local commercial stocks and bonds, and prices have been practically stationary. The exception has been Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone, which for some unexplained reason has jumped in a week from $94 to par. Latest quotations, giving bid or sale prices, are as follows:

STILL IN THE FIELD.

Report Regarding New Telephone Company's Retirement Denied.

The Utah Home Telephone company has put in a bid on the city corner at State and First South streets, and will erect a building there if successful in making the purchase. The bids are to be opened May 4.

Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone stock jumped from $94 to $100 during the last week, and this gave rise to a report that the new telephone company had abandoned the plan to purchase the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company.

"We have not the slightest intention of leaving the field," said "Our engineers have practically completed the plans for conduits and wires, and as soon as we can get the location of our building settled we will begin on the work of construction. We have all the contracts we need for the present, and we have ordered part of our material, and there is money in the bank to pay for it."

FAREWELL SERMON.

Louise Dennis, the boy evangelist, will preach his farewell sermon at the old Armory tonight. The choir of the A. M. E. church, under the direction of Professor Lewis will render special song service. His text will be "The Dry Bones in the Valley," and a large attendance is expected.

TIRED MOTHER'S STORY

Of Baby's Dreadful Suffering from Eczema Happily Cured by Cuticura Remedies

"Charlie was fretful and cross, but as he was cutting teeth, I didn't think much of that," said Mrs. Helen Rath of 821 10th Ave., New York City. "Even when a rash broke out on his face I wasn't frightened, because everybody knows that that is quite common with teething babies. But the rash on Charlie's poor little face spread to his neck, chest and back. I had never seen anything quite like it before. The skin rose in little lumps, and matter came out. My baby's skin was hot, and how he did suffer! He wouldn't eat, and night after night I walked the floor with him weak as I was. Often I had to stop because I felt faint and my back throbbled with pain. But the worst pain of all was to see my poor little boy burning and itching with those nasty sores, which the neighbors said was Eczema. A lady across the street gave me some Cuticura Ointment. I think the box was about half full, and a piece of Cuticura Soap. I followed the directions, bathing Charlie with the Soap and putting that nice Ointment on the sores. I wouldn't have believed that my baby would be cured by a little thing like that. Not all of a sudden, mind you, little by little, but so surely, Charlie and I both got more peace by day, and more sleep by night. The sores sort of dried up and went away. I shall never forget one blessed night when I went to bed with Charlie beside me, when I woke up the sun was streaming in. For the first time in six months I had slept through the night without a break. Yes, that fat little boy by the window is Charlie, and his skin is as white as a snowflake, thanks to the Cuticura Remedies."

ASKS INVESTIGATION

Senator Kearns Interests Himself in the Mormon Troubles.

Senator Thomas Kearns has asked Secretary of State John Hay to interest himself in the matter of the expulsion of the Mormon missionaries from the governments of Prussia and Mecklenburg. Night before last Senator Kearns wired the secretary, calling his attention to the order and asked that the American ambassador to Germany be directed to investigate the affair fully with a view to ascertaining what, if anything, could be done to protect the rights of the missionaries in that country. The senator yesterday received the following reply from Secretary Hay:

"Your dispatch received and communicated to ambassador in Germany, who is instructed to report and to use his good offices in behalf of our citizens."

President Joseph F. Smith yesterday expressed himself as follows, when asked for a statement concerning the matter: "The edict of the Prussian and Mecklenburg governments expelling Mormon missionaries is based on a misunderstanding of our missionary work. Our elders preach nothing but the pure principles of the gospel of Christ. They do not teach or inculcate polygamy. They have no authority to do so. They are under obligations to lead moral lives, to promote the chastity of men and women and to obey the laws of every nation where they reside. Fair investigation would demonstrate these facts beyond controversy and show that no government is injured by the promulgation of Mormonism, but to the contrary, its citizens become more law-abiding, peaceable, industrious and God-fearing under its influence. Polygamy is not authorized by the Mormon church nor permitted under its auspices. The German authorities have allowed themselves to be swayed by religious prejudices and groundless reports."

Catarrhal-Asthma and Deafness Cured.

Frank Welte, 22 Euclid Ave., Salt Lake City, Utah.

Frank Welte, aged 17 years, who resides at No. 22 Euclid avenue, this city, was a very sick boy a few months ago. Now he is a healthy boy.

I have suffered for about two years with what I have since learned was Catarrhal Asthma, and which resulted in partial deafness. It was impossible to hear ordinary conversation—my head and nose stopped up continually and at night I had to sit up in bed to catch my breath—as I almost smothered if I tried to lie down. I lost my appetite, could not eat anything, and was run down badly. Four months ago I went to Drs. Shores and began their treatment. I improved slowly but steadily at first, and lately my progress has been much more rapid, until today I feel better all over. I don't hawk and spit now, I bear very much better, breathe easy—have no trouble at night, appetite better—in fact, I feel like a new boy and want to thank Drs. Shores for their splendid treatment.

(Signed.) FRANK WELTE.
